The Titanic Coloring Book (Dover History Coloring Book)

Synopsis

On the night of April 14, 1912, while passengers aboard the Titanic were enjoying the luxurious accommodations of the White Star fleet's newest ocean liner, the ship struck an iceberg off the coast of Newfoundland. Described as "unsinkable," the largest and most elegant ocean vessel of the period quickly sank in the early morning hours on April 15 with the loss of more than 1,500 lives. This exciting coloring book dramatically re-creates events leading up to and including the monumental tragedy. Twenty-nine realistic drawings, accompanied by fact-filled captions, depict the Titanic docked in Southampton, England; the ship's captain and officers on the bridge; passengers dining and strolling on deck; the ship striking the iceberg; survivors huddled in lifeboats; and more.

Customer Reviews

Excellent coloring book quality, pictures are great, lots to learn from facts on each page as child colors. Great to use for homeschool or even just extra learning.

Rather bland illustrations.

Grandson loved it

Grandson is a history buff.

My 8 year old son is into the Titanic right now. He likes the book. He hasn't colored anything in it yet, but he has skimmed through the pictures several times

My nephew really enjoys this coloring book.

Excellent. Please be aware, though, that just because this is a coloring book doesn't mean the dark content is overlooked. It's there. Death, people falling/jumping off the Titanic, etc. But it's very neat, and we love the realism. We used as favors for a Titanic birthday party.

My 9-year old nephew loves all things Titanic. The drawings have lots of detail. Therefore, the coloring book is probably more appropriate for coloring pencils rather than crayons. As far as the other comments about the drawings showing passengers falling to their deaths, he already knows that over 1000 died that night so this isn't a shock to him. He probably would be disappointed if the pictures weren't historically accurate...and he would know the difference.
