Borch, a cartographic publishing company from Germany, makes tough, long-lasting maps with non-toxic, environmentally responsible lamination material.

The map is confusing. The map provided by the rental agency was lot more useful. Besides the point, please trust me on this, before spending money on this. 1) The island is too small. You will spend most of the time traveling in L.G. Smith road - That's it. 2) If you go off road, please use a compass in your phone or so - That is more useful than a map. 3) No matter how good this map is, this is of no use. The reason is that, there are NO directions, boards, indicators on the roads to tell you where you are. There is no way to locate yourself and position you in this map - and make driving decisions while moving. So, net net, you do not need such expensive maps to travel in Aruba.

This is a great map to get your bearings on the island. The only problem is that although the map has tons of street names on it, few streets on the island are clearly marked, which kind of makes a map less useful. But the map itself is fantastic!

The map was very helpful and worth purchasing in advance of a cruise port day in Aruba. I rented a car and used the map to navigate the island. Although there are few street signs, with the map I was able to figure out which way to go. This is one of the few southern Caribbean islands I would drive on myself; it was easy and the map made it easier.

Used this map for the week in Aruba. Although reading street signs on the island is tough, the map was helpful in getting us around. Our dive master gave us the one day tour by writing how to go around on our map, this was a great way to see the island. Hit all the best sites, recommended by a local. Woohoo!

I have purchased several maps of Aruba over the last 20 years. This is the best by far. If you are planning to visit Aruba and you want to rent a car and drive around (rather than sit in the hotel or on the beach) this is the map for you. Understand that Aruba roads are generally unmarked. For many years, my wife and I just drove in the general direction of where we wanted to go, and hoped for the best. With this map, you can actually find the road you want.

Going to Aruba in a few weeks and purchased this on the advice of Charles Smith's free online e-booklet, "How to Enjoy Aruba" (

It is a pretty good map. The problem you run into is that most streets are not marked. I found it really useful by using my iPad to pull up a restaurant or someplace else that I wanted to visit, then finding that location on the map. It was handy to have. The maps you get with the car rental are ok but this map is considerably better. I would buy another one and recommend this one to a friend.

Looks like this will be helpful in navigating the streets of Aruba, which we hear are maybe not marked as clearly as they can be. Good quality!
