P. D. Eastman was an author-illustrator who created many children's books, including Are You My Mother?, Go, Dog. Go!, and The Best Nest. Trained at the National Academy of Design, he enlisted in the army in 1943 and was assigned to the Signal Corps Film Unit which was headed by Theodor Geisel, who would eventually become known to the world as Dr. Seuss. After Geisel

later approached him to write for his new "Beginner Book" series at Random House, Eastman published his first book, "Sam and the Firefly". Since then, Random House has sold more than 30 million books by P. D. Eastman, and he has become one of the most beloved children's book authors in the world.

My children love this classic book on all things snow.

This was one of my favorite books as a child, since I rarely saw snow unless I was driven up to the mountains to play in it. For this reason, it captured my imagination and I was able to see the fun snow can bring. The simple drawings and text were just right for my young reading skills at the time, and I think any child (whether raised where it snows or not) can enjoy the book.

We give this book to all of our grandkids, they love it awesome! my parents bought it for me, I have bought it for my daughter.

This was my absolute favorite book when I was in the 1st and 2nd grade. I remember checking it out from the school library multiple times. I bought it for my son and he loves it as well! Bought the hardback edition and it arrived in perfect condition.

My son is autistic, we found that these Eastman books are just challenging enough to get him into reading. We started with "Go Dog Go", and now he can read that one in his sleep. We are working on snow now. I'm happy and so is he.

This book, with limited vocabulary and fantastic illustrations, tells the greatness of snow play from the point of view of children and a dog. My kids loved this one. It was one of the first books they memorized so they could "read" it.

This is a simple to read book that is perfect for a beginner! There was just something about this book I connected with as a kid. We grew up in Colorado and fun in the snow was a huge part of our lives. The dog in the story pictures just reminded me of our dog and how he tagged along with us when we went out to play in the snow. I recommend this book for all kids!
