Australian Bird Calls: Tasmania (Nature Sound)

Synopsis

This CD has been recorded by David Stewart and includes the birds of Tasmania. This Island has 12 endemic bird species. The CD features a range of calls for this unique group, along with those of a further 68 species, many of whose calls are different to their mainland cousins and particular attention has been paid to this aspect. Where possible, a range of calls of each species is presented, allowing the listener to become aware of the repertoire of sounds possessed by many of the birds, particularly songbirds. Ron Nagorcka, well known Tasmanian naturalist and composer, has supported this presentation by making a considerable number of calls available to make the selection more comprehensive. This album features no music or spoken commentary. The natural calls of the birds of this region can be appreciated both as a source of pleasant sounds, or as a well documented reference source of many bird species, particularly those which are difficult to observe. This is another CD in the Australian Bird Call series and contains calls of 80 species.
